

Award for Best Morning Cheerio

Goes to Jan Marshall for her very cheery welcome to everybody when she arrives for the ride. Jan always arrives with a big beaming grin and her loud trademark “morning, morning” call out to everyone readying for the ride.

Award for Best Mechanical

Goes to Denis Kennedy for his ability to drop a chain that is so difficult to put back on that it takes eight of the bunch to huddle and try to fix without success until Margaret who is looking on says “why don’t you take the wheel off”. Brilliant! Job done.

Award for Best Effort at Drafting

Goes to Nick Stokes Hughes for his effort of trying to draft behind a parked flatbed truck whilst pedalling at 30 kph. This effort earned Nick a trip in an ambulance and a turn on the green whistle.

“Just a Dash” Award

Goes to Rod Tulloch for his ability to lead out the Greenhills roundabout sprint and die too early just before the finish on the Strava segment called “When Shit Gets Crazy”.

The in “The Nick of Time” Award

Goes to Michael Phipps for his ability to always arrive just in the nick of time for the 7:30 am sharp bunch roll out.

The KOM Award

Goes to Cliff Lewis, not for occasionally getting first up Col du Whale at Cape Solander but for always giving it a bloody good crack even when he says heading into the National Park “I think I will take it easy today”.

Award for Most Consistent

Goes to Wayne Turnbull for consistently going missing just before the start of every ride.
